Health Pass provides members with mobile proof of vaccination

October 4, 2021

Anthem has developed a solution to provide members with real-time access to their COVID-19 vaccine records. A recent survey of our members shows that 84% would use digital proof provided by their insurer and 76% of responders do not currently have digital proof.

Introducing Health Pass – a simple, secure, and trustworthy way for members to digitally access and store their vaccination information. Through our commitment to innovation, Health Pass delivers peace of mind and digital proof with one simple tap. The seamless integration with the Sydney HealthSM app means no additional apps to download, no paper card to track or worry about losing, and information is safely stored for sharing at any time.

How Health Pass works:

- If a vaccine was received and a claim submitted, a vaccine record automatically appears on the Sydney Health app.
- If no claim was processed, employees can easily upload an image of their paper vaccine card.

Health Pass is accessible on Sydney Health to all members through My Health Records or the Main Menu.

Encourage your clients to share this flyer with their employees to help them take advantage of Health Pass and keep their original vaccine card safe at home.

Sydney Health is offered through an arrangement with CareMarket, Inc., a separate company offering mobile application services on behalf of Anthem. ©2020-2021
